Youth-turnout for elections is sub-par

Do people really know the issues? Does a seventeen year-old student know what stand Gov. Milton Shapp takes on his no-fault insurance plan? Or are politics just brushed out of the way by people who either will not care or do not want to be bothered.

There appears to be an alarming growth rate of apathy towards politics throughout the nation. Only 56 percent of the people eligible to vote in the 1972 presidential election went to the polls. This was the lowest percentage of voter turnout since 1948! As of this year, 44 percent of all the voting age citizens are not even registered to vote. National statistics indicate President Nixon received 61 percent of the national vote and George McGovern received 37 percent. The other two percent was split among various other candidates. Local statistics showed President Nixon receiving 70.5 percent of the vote, Senator McGovern 28 percent, and the other candidates 1.5 percent.

Uncaring as people may be, no one can say that they are not affected by government, and politics determines the type of government in power. Some people may say, "Why should I care about my government?" We wonder if these people realize that in Marx's Communist Manifesto, it was stated that the way to take over a government was to get the people apathetical towards it. Is this goal being reached in the United States???

Hurricane Agnes devastates eastern U.S.

Homes were destroyed and property was ruined, as Hurricane Agnes spread her destruction over the Eastern Coast of the United States. Hundreds of people were killed and many thousands left homeless by one of the greatest natural disasters in the history of Pennsylvania.

The Titusville Salvation Army did not give directly to the Disaster Relief Fund initiated because of Hurricane Agnes; however, they did donate $2,300 during the year to the Emergency-Disaster Relief Fund. The Titusville Red Cross raised $1,480 for victims of the flood. Their quota, set by the Erie Headquarters, was $1,480; all of the money came from private donations.

Yet, how many area residents listened to the disaster news and then brushed it aside, forgetting about the needs of others while rushing through their selfish lives? How many youth in our area offered assistance in any way? Why???

Fire breaks out across from the governor's mansion (left) as firemen arrive by boat to combat it.

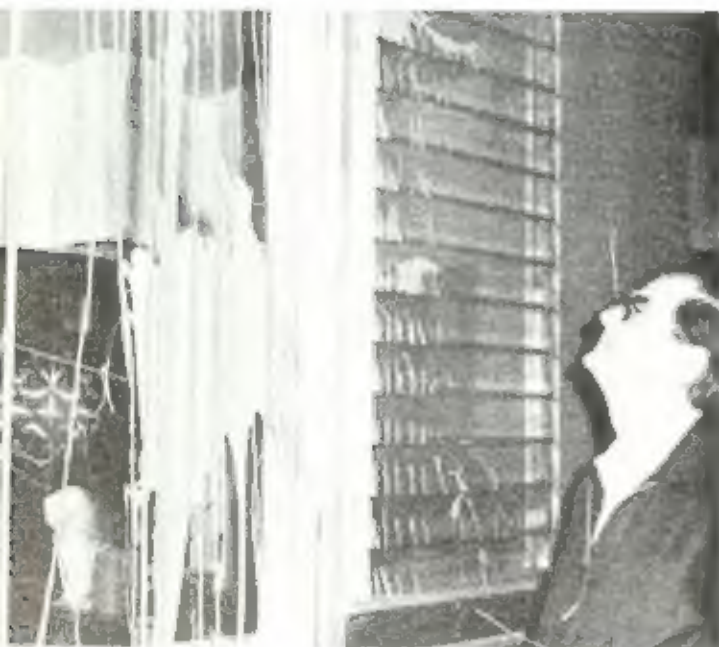

During the year, suprisingly enough, apathy did not abound everywhere. The "Dog 'N Suds Issue" (acts of vandalism) aroused everyone's feelings whether pro or con. The "Letters to the Editor" column in the Titusville Herald had an average of three letters a day for three weeks. Everybody, old, young, straights, hippies, they all had some kind of an opinion, and did they voice it!

Some people claimed that the young adults who patronize Dog 'N Suds were the scum of the community. Others stated that the youths of the town were not delinquents, but part of the nation's most valuable resources.

This was the first time such an issue concerning youth has risen and caused such an open controversy on the local scene. Would it be better for the community if such problems never came up for debate? Why???

Issues leave questions yet to be answered

Refuse dumps (above right) have become a common sight in many of the local rural areas.

For years, except for the work of the Shade Tree Commission, the beautification of Titusville was a dead subject. However, through the determined efforts of the people who attend the Town Meetings, beautification became a reality.

Through these meetings, a committee was established that consisted of eight concerned citizens and two seniors from the high school; the site they selected for this project was the North Diamond Street Area. The goal of the committee was to employ the Emergency Labor Relief Group, for the sum of two-hundred dollars; this group would provide the building owners with a continuity design for their sites.

Other priorities debated at the meeting were higher levels of education, juvenile delinquency, and drugs. One sad fact on the agenda, was that of the poor attendance by those who the meetings would affect most, the area citizens. Why???

Determination yields chance of betterment

PEOPLE—Stop copping out!

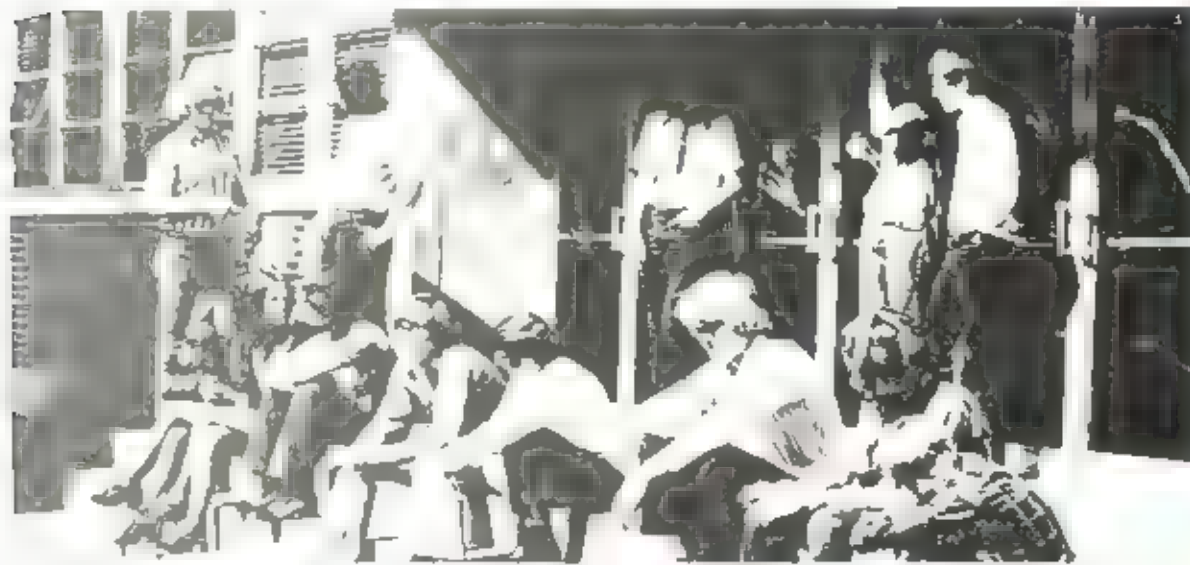

Many teachers are showing more personal interest and informality to wards their students and classes. Principal Jack Dile seems to be taking the students' interests to heart, by attempting to treat students equally and by trying to give everyone the opportunity to speak his piece. Not only he, but teachers are starting to regard students in a different light—that as individuals with feelings of their own.

A group of English teachers realized that the students were being repressed in their personal interests. Thus, out of mandatory courses, came the variety of electives now offered in the English Department.

Granted, there are things that still need to be changed, but we realize how difficult change is to come by. No matter what decisions are made, "you can't please all of the people all of the time."

However, if some of the faculty can put forth extra time, effort, and interest for the benefit of the students, why can't all of the teachers? Why???

Is there anything wrong with our school?

It is felt that today's generation of youth is no better and no worse than those that came before it. However, because of the different circumstances with which the teenager of today has to cope, many adults cannot identify with them.

Some young people today have been taught of the power and undisputed leadership of their peers and most adults, therefore, many have lost faith in their own abilities. Just because someone is older or wealthier does not mean that they are more intelligent or always right. No one is perfect, but neither are they completely filled with faults. No one should accept blindly the values and opinions of others before they have developed their own attitudes. You can learn from others and others can learn from you.

What separates him from the followers? It is said that the children will disperse into a group to represent their places in society. Heaven help the poor soul that does not know his place, because he will be shoved into one by his fellows. This is where neurotic illnesses, "fear of things," come into our society.

Why do people fall in behind those leaders that shout the loudest? Have they no willpower or is it in their psychic make-up to behave meekly? Why???

The attitude is what counts, and "Doc" Snyder (left) is not labeled a man of indifference.

Edward Myer—a friend and advisor merged into one

There are many things wrong with this world! Change and solutions come gradually or they do not come at all. One emotion that seems to be lacking today is that of understanding. Few take the time to really listen to the problems of others. Occasionally, though, someone comes along who still retains this all important ability.

Some of the things this young man has experienced are more than other people have accomplished in a lifetime. He received the President's Citation from the Pennsylvania Recreation and Parks Society for outstanding service to the organization. In the summer of 1970, he and his wife traveled to the American Indian Mission in Oklahoma with 16 young people. This excursion was planned so that people of different cultural backgrounds could communicate and work with each other.

Not only is this gentleman involved with school activities and Tyc-Toc, but he also helped to establish and later took part in the Titusville Summer Theater productions. Furthermore, he has the responsibility for the summer baseball, swimming, and playground activities in the Titusville area.

All the above was or is being done for the purpose of helping the youth of the area mature into respectable, fun-loving adults. Their problems are considered with due respect, and whenever counseling is needed, it is given with insight. A life must be committed, and the goal of helping others is one that can be amazingly fulfilling.

With these many activities consuming his time, one might think that there is little time spent with his own family; however, this thought quickly fades when anyone sees his five happy children. Therefore, we, the Editors-in-Chief, would like to express our sincere admiration for one whom we regard as a friend to all young people and to whom we dedicate this 1973 OPTIMIST—EDWARD C. MYER

A man's life must be committed and Edward C. Myer (right), a holder of a Bachelor of Science Degree in Recreation from Penn State, has found a worthwhile and rewarding commitment.

The People Eaters attracted crowds to the annual Sophomore Talent Show. Directed by Mr. Donald Mowrey, the show was deemed a success by the up-coming laughter and booming applause.

The Stage Band, directed by Mr. Charles Anderson, played a few numbers including one that featured Jack Yakish in a drum solo. The band also helped the Senior Cheerleaders in their routine by providing the background music to the "Can Can."

Other highlights of the evening were the musical adventure "Westside Story" performed by the Cheerleaders, and the classical "Flight of the Bumblebee" as presented by the Major-ettes. The Grand Finale was the theme song from "Jesus Christ Superstar" as sung by the T.H.S. Choir. All proceeds from the production went into the treasury of the class of '74.

Glowing majestically in red, blue, orange, and violet stood the magnificent Taj Mahal, theme for the 1972 Junior Prom. It not only set the mood, but was the scene for the coronation of Queen Beth Kennedy and King Joe Wagner.

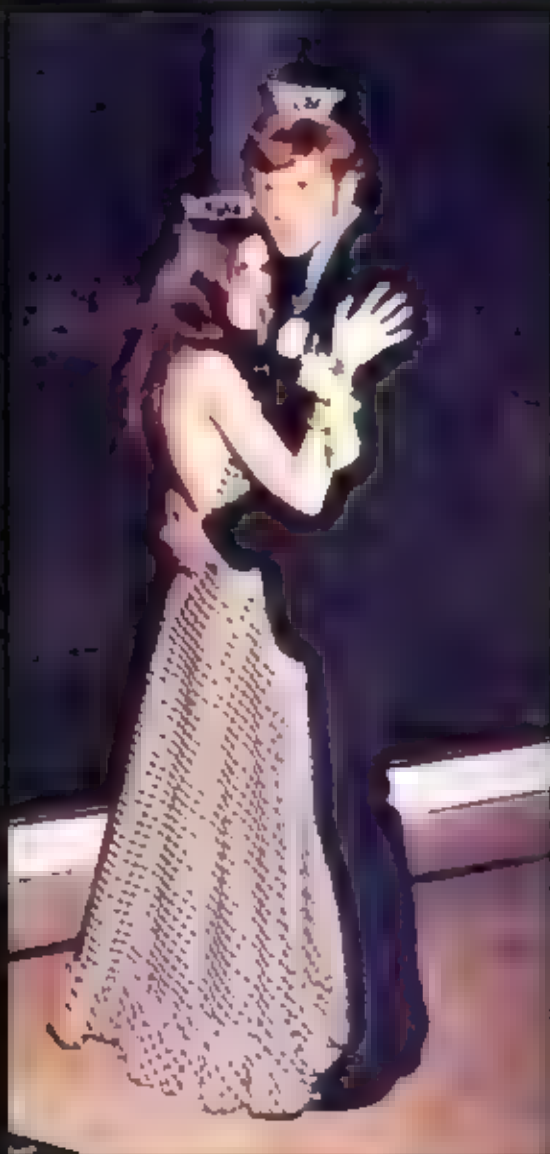

The Taj Mahal was designed and engineered by Van Cogley and Dan Hoover, and created by Pat Sopher and Ralph Hargest, Art Instructor.

The After-Prom Party was held in the cafeteria, and was coordinated by Ed Myer, Recreation Director, and the Tyc Toc student board. Movies were shown throughout the night, and dancing was provided by the Pittsburgh rock group, Andy's accent sounds forth!

Touches of old England were brought to T.H.S. by the local Rotary Club Exchange Student Program. Andy Scrase from Salisbury, England, was selected to spend his sophomore year in Titusville.

Andy lived with three different families: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Shingledecker, and Dr. and Mrs. William Savage. Andy's English family consists of his father, mother, two younger sisters, Jane and Christine, and an older brother, Richard.

He was active in Student Council activities, building the sophomore homecoming float, Library Aide projects, and counseling at Pioneer Ranch for the sixth grade Outdoor Education Program.

Brazilian summer exciting for Mike

While a lot of us were lying around soaking up the sun last summer, Mike Adelman was learning to speak Portuguese. Mike spent ten weeks of his summer vacation in Sao Paulo, Brazil, as an American Abroad student from the United States.

Mike lived with the family of Manoel Afonso de Andre, Jr., and had eight South American brothers and sisters: Gil, Celso, Paulo, Manoel, Carlos, Edwardo, Gaudi, and Zoca.

During his stay in Sao Paulo, Mike went to an all boy's school. By attending some of the parties and dances, he found that teenagers around the world enjoy the same things: dancing, singing, playing guitars, and just "goofing off."

Mike enjoyed Brazil immensely, and his only regret was that he couldn't stay longer. He was just beginning to speak fluently in Portuguese when he had to leave. If ever given a chance, he intends

Shin adds an oriental touch

A touch of the business world was added to T.H.S. this year by Shin Orio Shin was born in Tokyo, Japan 1952. He attended Chuo High School and College, he still would like to attend an American college and major in Business Administration. This would not be a strange field for him, as he already owns three restaurants, two coffee shops, and a supper club.

During his school career in Japan Shin was a track star. He holds the Japanese school record for the 400 meter dash, with a time of 48.7.

Originally Shin intended to study in London, but came to Titusville as the friend and house guest of the Mrs. Marian Romaniszyn family.

Excitement ran through the hearts of six girls as they were sung to by the popular singing group The Vogues. A special assembly for Trussville High School, featuring The Vogues started off the 1972 Homecoming festivities. This special show was made possible by Cross Creek Resort and Marine Bank.

The assembly and all of the other Homecoming events were under the coordination of Student Council Advisor Ronald Joyce.

During half time, the Majorettes, Rockettes, and the Marching Band performed special routines in honor of the queen candidates. Later, the Junior Class was presented with the First Annual Principal's Award for the best class Homecoming float. However, the highlight of the half-time show was the crowning of the 1972 Homecoming Queen Miss Jackie Riley.

The Sophomore Float after being judged by Junior Class President Mike M. Fa and

Serious drama was attempted by the cast of this year's Senior Class Play "Of Mice and Men," written by John Steinbeck, proved to be a very profound challenge to the cast members.

All the cast did a wonderful job, but most memorable were the roles of George and Lenny, played by Rob Buchan and Doug LaBolle, respectively. Steve Morris had originally been given the part of George, but due to illness had to forfeit the part. Special notice should be given to Robbie, because he only had a week and a half to practice. Doug was believable and moving as Lenny. Tears could be seen throughout the audience as the play reached its very emotional finale.

Responsibility for directing and producing the show fell to Mr. Michael McFarren, who again applied his inspiring theatrical talents. This makes the fourth play he has directed since coming to Titusville two years ago.

Curriculum

Administration institutes new programs

Establishing school policy was one of the main responsibilities of THS administrators. Principal Jack Dile, Vice Principal Bruce Pringle, and Superintendent of Schools Howard Newson along with other administrators, were busy during the year introducing and arranging projects throughout the school systems.

Some new projects initiated were adult education (for diploma) classes, new English courses, new programs for job placement in the offices, and community involvement. These people made sure the school system was one of the most efficient in the area by working closely with state and federal educational agencies, thereby, receiving thousands of dollars in federal funds for specialized projects and departments.

Problems of scheduling and disciplining were tasks assigned to Mr. Dile and Mr. Pringle. Students had to make numerous changes in their schedules, because of class disinterest and some over-crowded classrooms. If disciplining a student became necessary—well, four o'clock wasn't that late!

School board gets it on!

Many meetings pass the reading and enumeration of papers required long volunteer hours from members of the Titusville Area School Board.

Prime interests of the group are the budget, curriculum, tax rates, and personnel. They also set the year agreed upon by students, teachers, and parents alike.

Several important steps were taken by the board. new curtains were purchased for the auditorium; approval was given to a new adult education program which made it possible for an adult, who never graduated, to earn a Titusville High School Diploma; and initial planning was started on a building program for the school district.

School board members and administrators are engaged in a mound of paper work.

Counselors play roles, even psychiatrists

Problems, problems, problems were exactly what confronted the Senior High Guidance Department, as approximately nine hundred students were enrolled in the high school.

The problems handled ranged from personal matters to questions on future careers. The guidance personnel arranged college board exams and achievement tests for students planning to enter college. The National Honor Society was also under the direction of this department.

In addition to their many routine tasks, Guidance Counselors Ronald Joyce and Virginia Lackey started many new projects. One project was Guidepts, a news letter published by the guidance department for the students. Through the use of a career information center, the counselors began finding local employment for the non-business, non-academic students.

Computers dominate math classes

At the rate the Math Department was moving along, it was a wonder that a fully computerized school did not evolve. Headed by Blair Antill, a computer-oriented mathematics program was available to all pre-t students.

During the course of the year, Harry, Walter Seley, and Buckley Grabb introduced the reiterat on-tech nique process to all calculus and ad vanced math pupils. Using this process a computer can find the area sum of 5000 rectangles in 3 10 of a second! It is hoped by the department that the usage of computers will help to aid the student in understanding new and old programs in the future.

An opening to individual vocational training

Not only did Vo-Tech preach reading, it also gave way to practical experiences, for anyone who wanted it. In this facility, so alienated to most T H S students, a way of life existed that very few knew about. Instead of classrooms there were no restrictions placed on freedom of movement. There was a student lounge that received music over the P A. system

Co-op programs (work and study) existed and the T.V. Production crew was only one of the subject areas which took advantage of this offer. Shipped off to the Oil City Hospital to do tapings, this small congregation earned recognition and the minimum wage of $1.60 an hour per student

New courses were formed and old ones discarded as the year progressed. New equipment was bought with the taxpayers money and put to use. To this day, Vo-Tech remains as the center of technical and vocational learning for T.H.S. students. Not only from books, but from the agility of hands working alone and together

An era of innovation and progress results as the job of co-ordinating the Social Studies Department was undertaken by Mr. Carl Meinstereifel

One such change was the contract method of grading, the student decided which grade he wanted then did the amount of work required to earn that grade. This system was used by several Social Studies teachers

The department also began considering the prospect of having Social Studies mini courses, which would allow the student to choose his favorite areas of study. This system would be comparative to the English courses now in operation

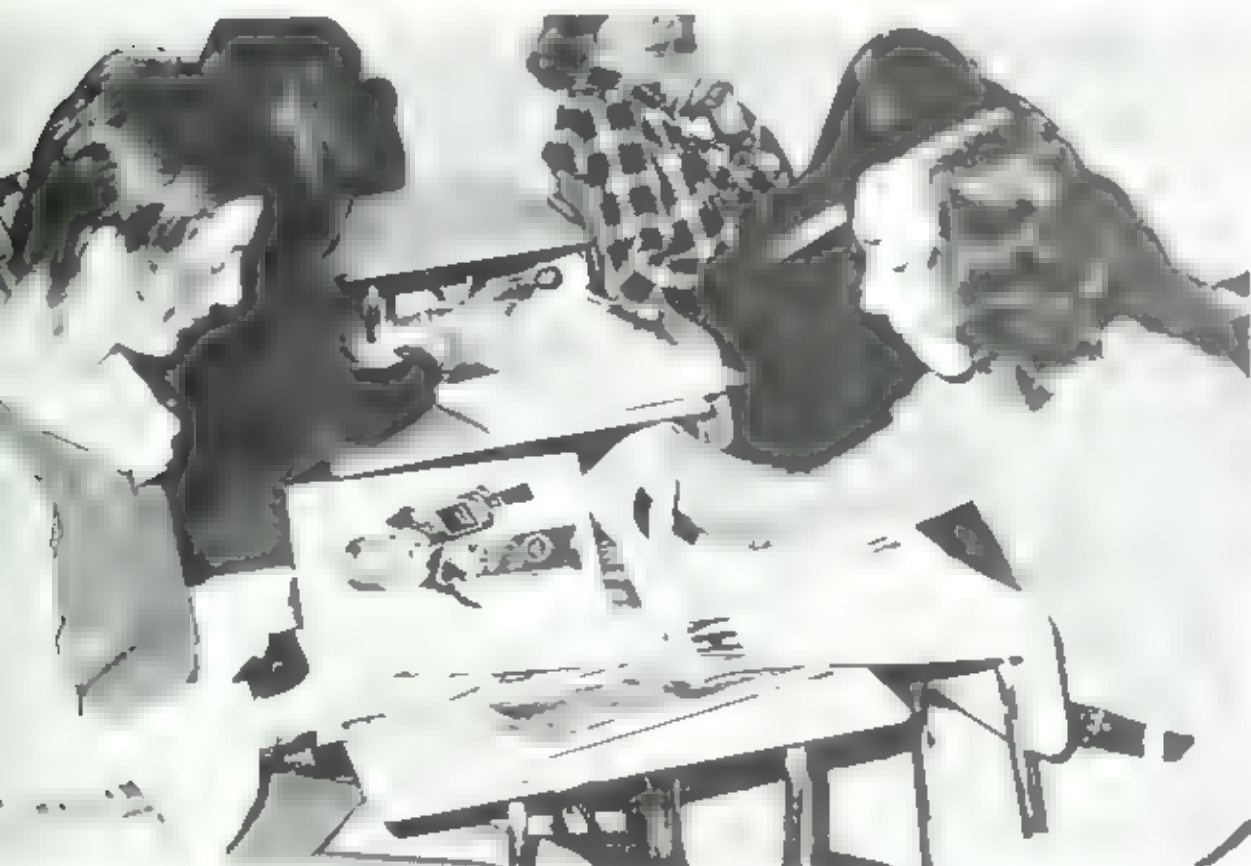

New members of the department were Mr. Robert Rhoades and Mr. William Andes. Mr. Rhoades assisted the first half of the day with drivers education and during the afternoon he taught Social Studies

Variety is the spice of life and variety was certainly offered to the language students of T.H.S. They were given a choice of three courses: French, German, and Latin. Students could take four years of a selected language. During this time, they should have been able to fairly well master its art.

There were changes in personnel in the language department during the year. Mrs. Hegla Law, German teacher, left and was replaced by Miss Edith Boulogne. Miss Boulogne graduated from Millersville State College. T.H.S. also lost Mrs. Ann Galegas who taught French. She was replaced by Miss Diane Wakefield who is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

During the year, the language teachers used various tools to help the students learn. Such tools as movies, tapes, and the use of the language lab. The lab was used primarily during class time, but was available to students during their study halls by special arrangement.

Language students were offered some extra-curricular activities throughout the year, such as helping with the A.F.S. weekend and caroling at Christmas. They were also able to join the Language Club if they were at least a second year language student.

Uniqueness was a word used and practiced by the T.H.S. English Department. The conventional English program was replaced by twenty-six mini-courses; mini-courses are nine weeks of particular areas of English. Students were given a variety of subjects from which to choose, everything from Shakespeare to Grammar was offered. Four mini-courses were required to complete the year and these courses were combined to make one credit. Classes were mixed as sophomores, juniors, and seniors studied together.

Two highlights of the program were the presentation of an Alive Nativity at Christmas and the making of commercials for television by using a portable T.V. camera.

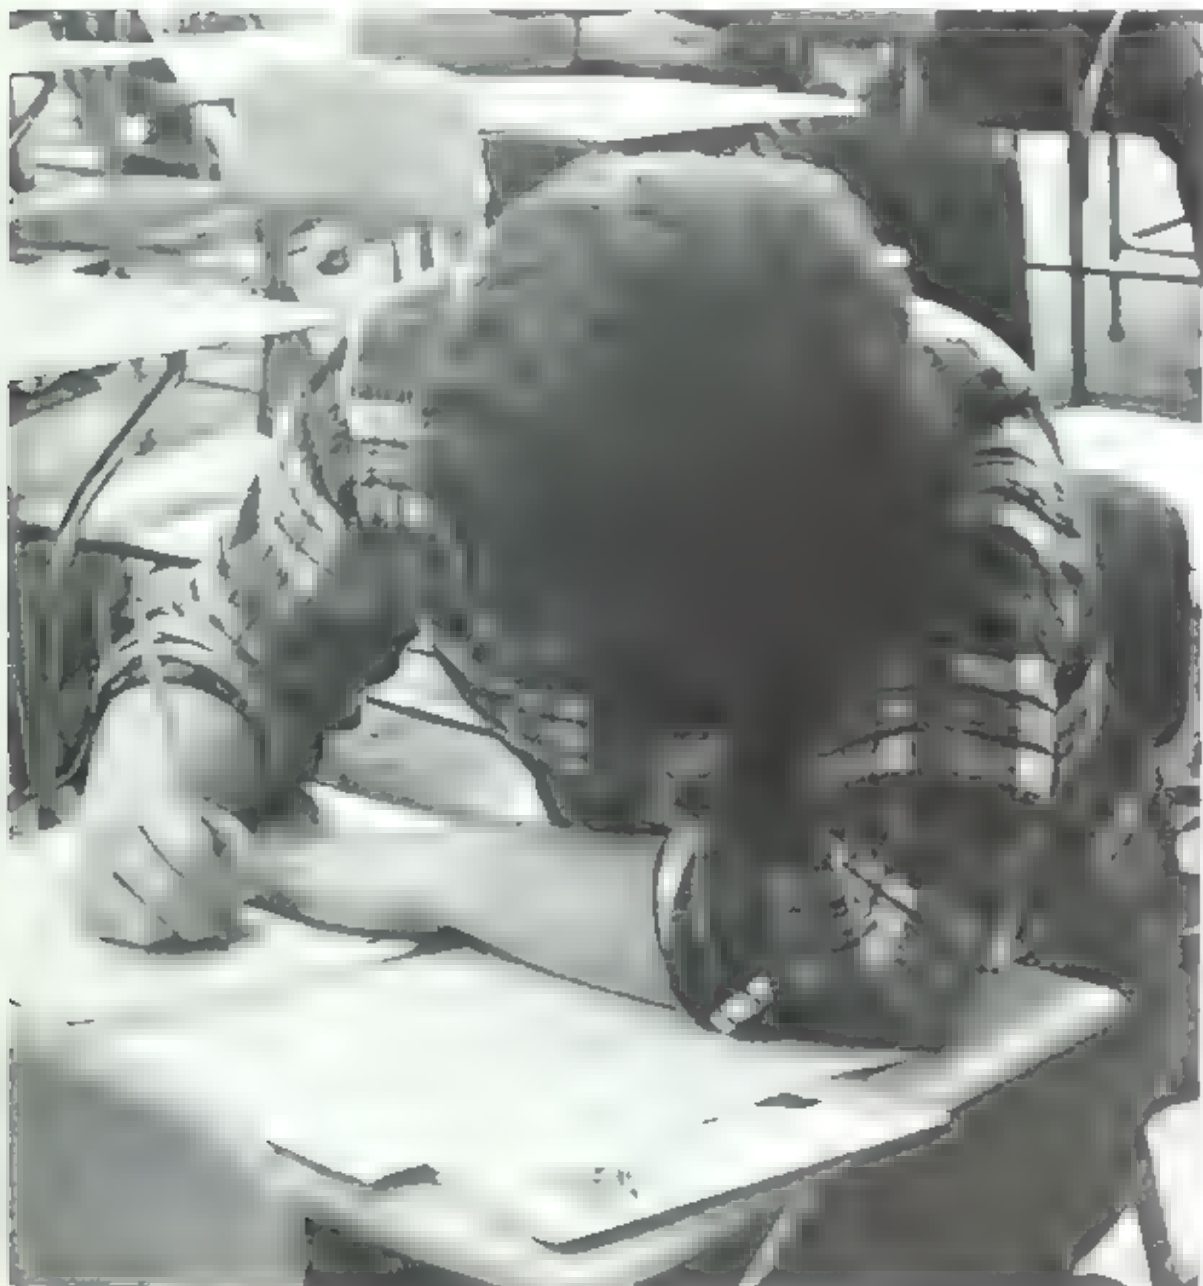

Mr. Paul Jones, Department Chairman, felt that the new English Curriculum had some problems, but the most of the students and teachers welcomed the chance to concentrate their studies in fields of their own interest.

Next year even more mini-courses, such as Business English, will be made available, therefore, the new style curriculum should become more relevant to Exploring the vast unknown, science students at T H S searched for the answers to various questions. What is a solution, how do you mix a solution, and what is the structure of an atom? Instructors used lectures combined with the laboratory to present their subjects. The curriculum included Advanced Biology, Advanced Chemistry, Physics, Nuclear Science, Chemistry, Biology, and General Science.

Work projects, such as the land project in Hydettown, were continued, however, less work was done than the year before due to the lack of funds.

The Nuclear Science courses were taught by Mr. James McQueer, and met every morning before school at 7:45. Nuclear Science is a combination of Biology, Chemistry, and Physics; those who took the course discovered what makes up a nucleus, what does it take to pull one apart, and what is radiation. In April, the class took a field trip to Penn State University to try out what they had learned on the university's nuclear reactor.

Discovering new vocational horizons, all of the Business Education students prepared themselves for the future. Developing such skills as typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping, they trained for future careers. In addition, the sophomores learned the best ways to become citizens, which should be beneficial to them now and following graduation.

There was an addition to the Business Education Staff, Miss Sue Smith, a 1972 graduate of Indiana University became the newest face on the five teacher staff.

A co-operative work experience program was offered to interested business education seniors. This provided the seniors with valuable on-the-job training and the experience of earning regular wages and paying taxes.

Many classes had guest speakers during the year, such as Mr. Gerald English from the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust. Some classes took field trips to visit various businesses in the area and were involved with projects to better prepare themselves as adult citizens. One such project was the special booklet describing area businesses prepared by one of the Office Practice students during their visitation day to area businesses, and the local Chamber of Commerce used it in publicizing Titusville.

Diligence and determination were expressed as students developed their skills of macrame, weaving, pottery, and abstract painting. For the first time the art department had the opportunity to decorate the Pediatrics ward at the hospital for Christmas, which made the children's stay there more enjoyable. Another task undertaken by the art department, along with the drama class, was the construction of an alive nativity scene held in front of the school.

Experimenting with exotic recipes and styling mod clothes were part of the home economics curriculum, making students realizing the unique problems of running a home. Through the trial and error method, new fads in cooking, making fondue, and quick breads proved to be very interesting as well as delicious. Sewing and designing clothes was something challenging to the boys in home economics, but it gave them the opportunity to make a pair of slacks and a vest.

Students in woodshop were involved in building such projects as stools, chest of drawers, tables, and cedar chests. These students, along with instructor Elwin Kerr, were responsible for the building the set of the "Alive Nativity Scene" produced by the English Department.

Mr. James Paul was absent for the first semester while on sabbatical, however, future architects were introduced to mechanical drawing techniques by Mr. Gerald Klingensmith.

In machine shop the main area of concentration was familiarization of students with the maintenance of machines. Basic machines and materials were used in explaining the accurate and precise way of cutting steel.

Nerves of steel were the requirements needed by the driver education teachers Mr. Robert Appel, Mr. Robert Rhoades, and Mr. Joe Chalmers. Learning to drive is an important thing for a teenager, and to learn how to drive well-equipped cars is useful to him.

This year T.H.S. had two new cars for the students to use in developing their styles of driving. There were approximately 300 students, more than T.H.S. ever had, who wanted to learn how to drive. Six hours of driving were required of the students at school, plus hard work at home to obtain their licenses.

Reading is one of the most important aspects of a person's life, and Mr. Dennis Pattison helped to develop that skill while serving as the reading instructor. Students had the pleasure of working with materials such as Science Research Association kits, films, tape recorders, and various types of reading techniques. Reading is available for any student who had the time and would like to better themselves in reading.

Information on almost any subject can be found in the T.H.S. library. This year, more pleasant and relaxed surroundings were arranged and carpet was installed. Along with the new library came the newly appointed librarian, Mr. Arnold Fitzgerald. The library is now a nice, quiet place to work and to use for important class research.

Along with physical fitness, came Mr. Stewart with health and safety. These classes tried to give the students safer ideas in driving and everyday living. Some of the right ways to do things proved to be fun as well as practical, such as changing tires

Working behind the scenes to help improve

Amid constant student and faculty interruptions, the secretaries provided their vital services to the functions of our school.

Secretarial services included issuing late passes, keeping an accurate record on each student, and doing the paper work necessary for the operation of the high school.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Jean Jeschke and with special assistance from Phyllis Madden and Minniealta Watt, the health department functioned efficiently for the students' benefit.

The nurses performed tasks which ranged from administering first aid to determining whether a student should go home due to illness. They also gave eye exams, hearing tests, and an annual health screening to all senior high students.

Learning to take more creative pictures and develop them, the Photography Club ventured into a new field of art for most of its members

The club was given instructions by Advisor Andrew Brindger and the privileges of the darkroom by the publication classes. The club met and worked on Monday nights throughout the year. Members learned to take pictures from various angles, with different lenses, and with various light settings.

Each student used his own camera and purchased his own paper and film. Some of the students worked toward preparing entries for various contests held both within and outside the school.

Keeping score is the name of the game

Sports-minded girls who wanted the sporting events at T H S to run smoother, donated their time and energy by joining the Girls' Officials Club. These girls helped in the organizing, announcing, timing, and scorekeeping for all sports except football.

Advisor Richard Stewart and the respective coaches talked with the girls and explained the procedures to be followed in each sport.

In addition to helping the athletic program run more efficiently, the girls acquired more knowledge about the sports and how they were played.

Financially, the organization saved the athletic program money as they eliminated the need to hire teachers for some of the routine jobs at home athletic events.

Language Club draws large numbers

The astonishing number of 137 students united to form an enormous Language Club. The club was made up of students who have had two or more years of a language. Mrs. Betty Fife, with the help of the other language teachers, advised the group.

Most of the planning was done by the student executive council. The council consisted of the officers and representatives from each language studied.

A new event this year was a trip for the advanced language student to "Old Economy." This is a restored village from the 19th Century, which was a self-contained religious community. A breakfast was held instead of the usual dinner for the students participating in the A.F.S. Weekend.

Stage crew proved to be a great necessity to many of the performances presented in the auditorium throughout the year.

With only three members and Advisor Michael McFarren, the stage crew carried out the various duties assigned to them. Their responsibilities included maintenance, stage-sound effects, operating the many lights, and helping to build scenery.

Special work was done setting up the Vogue's equipment for the special Homecoming Assembly.

It's all in the 73 yearbook

Take two creative editors, add one advisor with the patience of Job, mix in seven senior editors with instinct, stir in garnishes of laughter and illwill, simmer gently for six months, and a fantastic yearbook evolves.

The cover on the 1973 OPTIMIST was the brain-child of two minds: radical and conservative. This particular volume contained color galore and had special effects spread throughout. In addition, a new 3-column layout style was introduced along with an entirely new approach to advertising layout.

The senior staff had the job of breaking in" the sophomores and training the juniors more intensely. A few times during the year, it was necessary for the members to come in after school in order that the deadlines could be met.

Another brain-child this year was that of the Mini-Pulitzer Prize Awards. Created by Yearbook Advisor T. K. Slover and Newspaper Advisor Linda Gregg, all publications students were eligible to enter their best work in competition. Each category was judged by a professional in that field from outside the school.

“Extra! Extra! Read all about it!”

A current of creativity was poured forth, and due to this new outlet of imagination, the newspaper seemed to have changed overnight.

One of the brainchild's of Editors Jody Davison and Scott Gardner was that of the first issue being given away free. Supposedly, this idea was to entice everybody to buy more issues. The idea failed as the Rocket Tales statistics on sales showed. Out of the nearly 900 students and teachers in the school, only 179 subscribed!

With the help of Advisor Linda Gregg, modern methods were tried. Some worked and some failed. One that proved successful was that of assigning two editors to each page of the paper with these editors alternating issues. This gave a chance for new ideas to be put into practice for each issue.

Deep concentration, lots of hard work, and natural ability paved the way for head majorette Diane Stefaniszyn in leading the T.H.S. Majorettes through the 1972-73 school year. Throughout the year, the majorettes participated in various activities, such as pep assemblies, half-time shows of the football and basketball games, and several parades.

The majorettes presented a very special number during the homecoming festivities as they twirled their fire batons to "El Cumbanchero." Christmas brought out the creativity in each of the girls as they performed a special routine to "Winter Wonderland," during a home basketball game.

Through special arrangements, the majorettes traveled to Polk State School to entertain the patients. These girls worked continuously to bring variety to the activities of the year.

Dashing onto the field, the Rockettes performed numerous spectacular half-time shows including "Rockin' Robin" and "The Charleston."

Time and effort together with a lot of practice were the key sacrifices in becoming a reliable Rockette. Mr. Donald Mowrey, Instructor, helped Head Rockette Linda Ludwick to create a variety of routines for the spectators' enjoyment.

The group participated with the band in many out-of-town activities such as band camp and parades. They placed third in competition at Clarion and Edinboro.

Many of the Rockettes appeared at the home Basketball games. New gold pull-over sweaters were also added as tractions to the already colorful brown and gold outfits of the group.

Cheering and applauding followed the sounds of the T.H.S. Marching Band as they high stepped on to the Rocket football field. The beat went on not only in the town's events, but also in nearby communities. During an active summer, they provided music for Centerville's Autumn Leaves Festival, Crawford County's Queen, Clarion's Autumn Leaves Festival, and Pleasantville's Centennial!

Competition with other bands at Edinboro, Clarion, and Meadville saw the band place third in each of these events. This was partly due to the work at summer band camp at Pioneer Ranch in Hickory, not to mention the once-a-week practice during the student's summer vacation at the Rocket football field.

Caught in the act

The beat goes on with rockin' sounds

To give the band a cooler appearance, money was donated from Titusville's Service League for summer uniforms, which were complimented by attractive brown and gold shirts and pants. Additional wear was also purchased to replace old winter uniforms.

The biggest highlight of the year was the first annual banquet for the band Rockettes, and Majorettes sponsored by the band parents.

The band worked hard and steady with Director Charles Anderson and Head Majorette Diane Stefaniszyn to fill a busy year with rockin' sounds.

At the end of the year, the band had a perfect performance.

Disbelief is expressed by Mr. Anderson (band above) as the Rockettes make their entrance.

Band gives musical variety

Beneath the colorful overlay of their marching band uniforms lied the dignity of the Concert Band. This group of dedicated music students worked very hard to ensure excellence in their performances. Some of the band members went to Main Street School to play for the students and their parents. This was a new activity for the Concert Band to create interest in instrumental music among the youngsters.

Basketball games, wrestling matches, and pep assemblies were livened up by the music provided by the Pep Band. Much enthusiasm by the band and the spectators really improved the morale of the players. The band played the school songs plus many other peppy tunes.

Practicing every Tuesday night was the a Stage Band. They performed for the various concert ensembles during the Concert and also for a special appearance before the Women's Club in the Titusville area.

Christmas caroling through the streets of the downtown Titusville area was the Brass Ensemble. They also entertained the students of T.H.S. in the cafeteria with lunch time concerts. These music students went to the various elementary schools of the Titusville area and brought the younger students a little Christmas cheer.

Ninety-two senior high students united together this year to form the largest choir ever. The choir performed for several area clubs and organizations, including the Lions' Club and the Oil City Women's Club.

At the annual Christmas and Easter assemblies, the "voice" of the choir seemed to be appreciated by everyone who heard it. The annual public concerts were also a great success with crowds of well over 700 attending each performance.

For the first time, Titusville participated in the all eastern choir which was held in Boston. Second tenor Terry Kerr had the honor of being the first, and it's hoped not the last, from Titusville to participate.

In the opinion of Director Donald Mowrey, the choir had a very successful year singing a large variety of songs for many types of audiences.

Filling the auditorium with sweet melodious sounds, the girls' chorus sang favorite Christmas carols at the annual choral concert directed by Mr. Donald Mowrey.

These seventy-five girls performed in several concerts throughout the year. After the holidays, the chorus spent many hours rehearsing for the Palm Sunday Concert and Spring Concert which were their last performances of the year.

The girl's chorus is an elective course open to any girl wanting to display her vocal talent. This is its fifth year in existence, and many girls have shown great interest in it.

River Ridge Farm objective of history club

Passing through the pages of time, the Drake History Club's major objective was to learn about the past in a fun way. They did this by presenting a life the history of the S-b-y-E-rs (River Ridge Farm) located on the Allegheny River in Oil City. This presentation was skillfully planned with slides, sound effects, and historically narrated by two members at the Historians Convention at Philadelphia in April which was the biggest highlight of the year.

The club continued its interest in other areas by inviting Miss Linda Gregg to show slides of her Olympic trip and Miss Mabel Clark, a former club advisor, to present slides of her journey to the South Pacific.

Other events were scheduled throughout the year, such as visits to historical sites: Lyndhurst Manor in Tarrytown, New York; Titusville's Drake Well Museum; and Fort LeBoeuf in Waterford.

The new advisor, Mr. Carl Meinstereifel, made it a point to let the members do their own thing in the study of area history.

Flexability is the answer

Tumbling, jumping, and spinning were enjoyed by school girls of all ages who participated in the Girls' Gymnastics Club. The club was organized and coached by Mr. Richard Stewart.

The girls, 150 in all, ranged from elementary school age to senior high age and were graded according to their abilities. The grades were beginner, intermediate, advanced, and the newest award, superior.

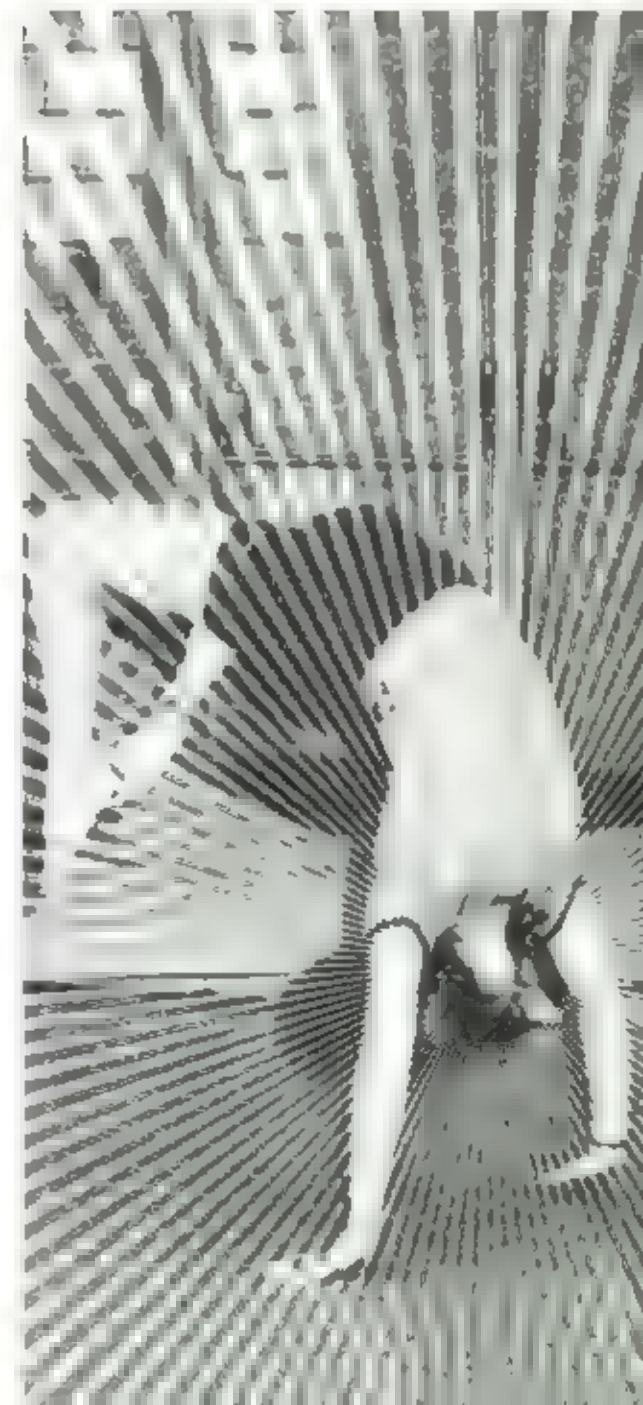

Competition was missed, because Titusville was the only local school with a team. However, the girls enjoyed the annual show they put on in February. The show was for parents, friends, and others interested in gymnastics.

Vigor and vitality were only part of the effort put forth by the Girls' Tennis Club, thanks to Mrs. Esther Heth. Having competed among themselves and also against the boys' tennis team, they continued to practice during the fall and spring.

Titusville had the only girls' Tennis Club in the area, however, other schools should be starting teams in the future. If these teams do develop, the athletic department hopes to schedule some regular scholastic meets.

Soulful Italian hits Tyc-Toc

Tyc-Toc was still the place to go for excitement on any Friday or Saturday night during the year. There were ping-pong tables, pool tables, and music was provided for those who wished to dance.

A new addition this year was the snack bar, better known as "The Soulful Italian." Sandwiches and french fries were served by youthful gourmet Merlyn Riley. Several new games for the game rooms were also purchased this year for the members enjoyment.

Contests and tournaments were held throughout the year to determine who was the best at pool, ping-pong, chess, skating, and several other games and activities.

The money raised at Tyc-Toc and at Tyc-Toc activities was used to help pay for the after-prom party which was held at the Senior High School.

Teaching and learning were the basic objectives of the Future Teachers Club. Many senior high students volunteered their time to tutor younger students in the Junior High School and to help at the Presbyterian Church with the Headstart Program. These students worked on a one-to-one basis with the younger students trying to develop an interest to learn. Tutoring in junior high was supervised by Mrs. Lois Gilson and Mr. Ken Winger; hopefully, this service helped make learning a little bit easier for the special education students.

Advisor Walter Seley has enjoyed working with this club for the past twelve years. President Carol Walton and Vice-President Jean Kunick promoted the club's activities, such as selling stationary and sponsoring a Christmas dance. The group also toured several colleges in the area; Behrend Campus, Erie Business School, and Slippery Rock State College.

The FTA was primarily interested in teaching; however, it encouraged all students interested in the various phases of education to become members.

Tackling another year of fun and excitement, Mrs. Jean Jeschke advised the girls of the Health Career's Club through another year.

Club officers were responsible for scheduling the appearances of the various speakers who spoke at the monthly meetings. In November, a representative from the Department of Welfare in Meadville spoke on the aspects of being a social worker. Some of the other speakers who tried to give the girls insight into the medical world included a doctor from Polk State Hospital, a dental hygienist, physiotherapist, and an x-ray technician.

In April, the club took a trip to the Shriner's Children's Hospital in Erie, the trip proved to be particularly educational for those planning careers in nursing and physical therapy.

Rockets fumble the year

The ball was snapped, the players clashed, and the Rockets went for a long drive; displaying their usual fashion of "coming out fighting" at the start of a game. This was basically the kind of football the 1972 Rockets came out to play; however, a few unlucky breaks put them on the low end of the stick.

Throughout most of their games, the Rockets put their plays into action like clock work; unfortunately, they found out that a few costly mistakes could decide the game. Starting their campaign out on the home field, the Rockets confronted Oil City in one of the most raging offensive battles of the season. Taking an early 12-0 lead, the Rockets found that the game was far from over. With both teams playing a tough offensive game, Oil City crept up on the Rockets and pulled out ahead in the final quarter winning by a score of 28-24. A highlight of the year was an unusual win over Hickory on a field goal kicked by John Harper. Hickory failed to score during the game, leaving the Rockets with a 3-0 victory.

During several of the home games, a most unusual incident occurred. Both teams would be lining up, the center would be getting ready to hike the ball, and then all of a sudden the crowd would start cheering and yelling. What happened? Was a star player coming on the field? Was someone coming out to save the day? No, it was only a small, sleek rabbit darting across the field to make his bi-weekly appearance. This rabbit was the big attention stealer. During the short time he appeared, the rabbit compiled more rushing yardage than any of his football counterparts.

Senior Gary Carlson started out the season as first string quarterback, scoring two touchdowns in the opener with Oil City. However, in that game he was injured. The abilities of Junior Ron McKee and Sophomore Rick Kacan were then called upon to fill the vacancy. McKee played a fairly stable game and Kacan was helpful in the Franklin game, when he connected with Jack Connell for the lone score.

Although each individual on the team appeared to put forth a great amount of effort, only a couple of members were listed on the North-West Conference All Star Roster. Dave Stewart received the position of second team defensive half back and John Harper earned a spot as linebacker on the Section II All Star Team. Honorable mentions were given to Jack Connell, Joe Jacobs, and Rod Kahnell. Another bright spot was that Doug LaBolle was given an honorable mention for All-State defensive tackle.

The season record does not always tell the whole story of how the team really did during the year. So was the case of the '72 Rockets. They worked together as a team, but always seemed to get the bad breaks and come up short in the scoring bracket. With a season record of 2 wins and 7 losses, the Rockets had to be satisfied knowing that they did learn to put good teamwork into action. As a team representative stated at a pep assembly, "It is an honor and privilege to play for T.H.S." With that feeling exhibited by the players, the season was remarkably better than the statistics show.

Contemplating the team's moves, Jon Bromley (right) is hoping for another team victory.

Harriers rack up near perfect season

Winning was the name of the game as the 1972-1973 Cross Country team compiled a season record of 9-1.

In dual meets over the last three seasons, the Rockets put together a record of 27 wins and 5 losses. Next, the Harriers ran off with the Section 2 trophy, the first in eight years of competition. Dennis Billig and Mike McFarland were the team standouts at the Section 2 meet, as Dennis took fourth and Mike came in behind him taking fifth.

The Harriers then laid it on thick as they journeyed to Edinboro to take first place in District 10. The Rockets only competition from Section 2, Cranberry, finished a sad fifth.

At the state competition the Rockets struck again, taking sixth place, against hundreds of other runners and twenty-two other schools. While at states, Mike McFarland placed highest for the Rockets and Dennis Billig followed him in to take a team second. The Rocket cause on a statewide level was aided by Ron Zahner, Jeff Schneider, Dick Beach, and Doug Howe.

Blast-off was exactly what Coach Harold Cole's T.H.S. Rocket Golf team did during the fall season. Seniors Tupper Kinder and Kevin Rochford led the team to a 5-1 record, which was identical to the previous year's. They had a lot of help from Juniors Chris Beal, Scott Linnon, and Wade Reynolds.

The team played under harsh weather conditions, but managed to maintain a perfect record until the last contest of the season, when they lost to the undefeated Meadville Bulldogs. In the loss, the individual contests were close, but the final score didn't show it. At the Section II tournament, Titusville once again placed second to the powerful Meadville team.

There will be three lettermen returning next year as compared to two this year. It was the first time in the last five years that an individual Titusville golfer has not won a trophy.

In golf, scoring is done on a point basis. One point is awarded if you win more holes than your opponent on the first nine, one point if you win more holes on the back nine, and one point for the lowest total. There are a total of three points awarded and you need two or more to win your match

Rocketeers fall to oil city

A year of "firsts" described the girls' 1972-1973 basketball team. For the first time, the team competed in an organized Section II league. If the Rocketeers had captured Section II, they would have gone on to districts and then states. However, the team placed second to Oil City in both Sections and the Y W C A. tournament. Still, the Rocketeers posted a record of 8-4, almost identical to last years' record.

There was an admission fee charged to the girls' games for the first time this year, thus attaching more importance to the girls' themselves.

With a point total of 204, Vicki Dibble was undoubtedly the highest scorer of the season. T H S will be losing Vicki as well as Renee Southwick as senior starters. However, Coach Linda Gregg feels confident that she will have a strong group of veterans to work with next year.

Tracksters compile very impressive record

Operation Championship" was the theme of the 1971-72 Track Team. The cindermen got off to a great start by crushing Youngsville and maintained their lead throughout the season.

The tracksters were able to cop the Section 2 meet at Oil City. Ron McKee had a 9.9 victory in the 100 yard dash, a new standard for both T.H.S. and the section meet. Titusville's victory in the two-mile relay at 8:09.9 also set a dual meet record. Steve Morricol was Titusville's only triple winner; he gave the Rockets vital points with victories in the 220 dash and 440 run, as well as anchoring the winning two-mile relay team.

The Rockets then captured the District 10 meet as they piled up 50 points. Steve Carlson and Joe Wagner were Titusville's only first place winners, as Carlson took the 180 low hurdles and Wagner won the shot put. The Rockets set a new T.H.S. record of 3:29.8 in the mile-relay at Districts. Four new district records were set during this meet, two of these by Titusville athletes.

Ten of our trackmen were eligible to compete in the state meet at Penn State University. Although they did not place, this was the largest delegation from T.H.S. ever to qualify for state level competition.

Point! Score tied! The pressure had grown immensely since the opening serve. The match had come down to the last point. The T H S. racketman drove the serve across the net toward his opponent who gracefully returned it, upon which the T H S. man slammed the ball past his opponent to bring home another Rocket victory.

The powerful but graceful Rocket Racketeers had another good season putting forth a 7-2 record. The team was led by seniors Grant Vroman, Harold Smithers, and Mark Romaniszyn, along with underclassmen Matt Lackey, Darryl Billig, Gregg Tracy, Brad Wescoat, and Clair Conklin.

A disappointing opening match with Rocky Grove, which they dropped by a score of 5-2, was followed by success. The Rockets blasted the next six foes, with the highlight being a 7-0 cremation of the Corry Beavers; this win portrayed the overall team strength.

With the Section II crown in sight, a 6-1 record established, and only one match left to be fought, the Rockets were assured of a tie for the Section II championship. The final foe was the ultra-tough Oil City Oilers. Hoping for a win and being hailed as Section II champs, the Rockets arrived at the Oilers home court. The Oilers had a home court advantage and luck; consequently, they defeated the Rockets, thus a deadlock occurred in Section II for first place.

In section play, the Rockets came up with an honor as Seniors Mark Romaniszyn and Tom McKinney prevailed over Oil City's contenders to become Section II doubles champions.

Right on! That's what the girl trackers did; they moved right on to an undefeated season. Starting out the season with a thrilling meet against Oil City, they defeated the Oilers 62-61 for the first time in the history of girls' track. The Rockets ended the season with a perfect record of 5-0.

But their achievements did not end with a winning season. The team went to an invitational meet at Westminster and had thirteen girls place. These girls moved on to Bethel Park in Pittsburgh where they did well in the 440 and 880-yard relays, 100-yard dash, 440 and 880-yard runs, and the javelin. There they had the excitement of meeting Jesse Owens, winner of four gold medals in the '32 Summer Olympics.

The girl trackers set a total of eleven new school records. This impressive record may be attributed to the fact that Miss Dottie Dunkle and Mr. Ronald Gill were added as coaches to assist Mr. Bill Blood and Miss Linda Gregg.

Paul Stamm reached for the microphone and studied the team rosters in his hand; as he began calling out unfamiliar names to a low round of applause, five alien bodies trotted out onto the court. Then to an applause which sounded like rumbling thunder, the names of Johnson, Ferro, Connell, Hook, and Goodman were announced. With these five players plus a very strong bench, Titusville kicked off a successful season.

Starting with non-sectional play, the Rockets had a tough time defeating Cambridge Springs; however, they overcame the Blue Devils in the second half with remarkable defense and a sparkling offense. In his first game, a group of students started a popular cheer "Bicha, Bicha, Bicha" that was heard frequently throughout the game when Brazilian exchange student Jose Roberto (Bob) Ferro scored. This cheer continued to be heard during the remainder of the season. After destroying Youngsville, the Rockets gave Iroquois a scare in a big defensive battle. Picking up three more non-league victories, Titusville was ready to play Warren. Even though a good showing was made, Titusville still came up two points short and became 0-1 in Section II play.

After taking four more verdicts in their favor, Titusville ran into a wall! They traveled to Meadville to extend their streak to five in a row, but when the clock showed zero the Rockets still had a five point deficit.

Following a Rocket loss to Oil City, Rocky Grove came to town. They left stunned as the Rockets annihilated them by 41 points. Once again the Rockets lost to Warren; however, Carry, Cranberry, and Franklin fell victims to the T.H.S. boys. The pressure mounted as they traveled to Hickory where everything was on the line. During the third quarter, the Rockets had a five point lead, but the Hornets caught fire and won the game. As a result, only a miracle could have given the Rockets a play-off spot for the title. They ended with a record of 15-7 and third place in Section II.

Wrestlers improve under new coaching

A slap resounds through the gym and a roar comes up from the stands. A wrestler is helped to his feet and his right arm is triumphantly raised. As he trots to the sideline to greet his teammates, a warm-up jacket is thrown over his shoulders. He turns to sit down and in doing so, the word "Titusville" on the back of his jacket stands out clearly amid the chaos of claps and handshakes from his fellow wrestlers.

This scene took place many times during the 1972-73 wrestling season as the matmen wound up with a record of eight wins and five losses. The Rockets were vastly improved over last season, when they compiled a record of five and eight.

A new addition and a positive key for the Rockets was the appointment of Mr. William Andes as the new head coach. A negative key for the wrestlers was the absence of a heavyweight wrestler. Coach Andes used various wrestlers during the season to try to fill the vacancy, but nothing worked out.

The Rockets did end up the season on the good side by winning four of their last five matches. Their only loss in the last five came from Meadville who beat the Rockets 32-22.

Titusville will lose six seniors off the existing squad: Scott Vincent, Jim Minich, Steve Morris, Kevin Pattison, Rob Weidner, and Craig Warner.

Titusville had six wrestlers in the Section 4 finals at Oil City. Those coming out on top were Doug Mowrey and Scott Vincent. Bob Waychoff was injured in the semi-finals, thus eliminating him from the finals. Steve Morris, Kevin Pattison, and Mark Carone were the only finalists for the Rockets that didn't make the number one spot.

At the District 10 wrestling tournament, both Vincent and Mowrey were eliminated in the semi-finals. Vincent's total record for the season was 11 and 8 and Mowrey's was 15 and 4.

Tarpon record-breakers crush OC, tie 1st pl.

With ten victories behind them, the once-beaten Tarpon swim team had already established a fantastic record for the year before entering into the last sectional meet.

The Tarpons were more than ready to face the sectional showdown against Oil City and grab a share of the swim title. As the opening event, the 160-yd. medley relay was about to begin, the swimmers took their marks. Bang! the gun sounded and they were off. Titusville's first two relayers, Fenton and Harrison, remained neck in neck with the blistering pace of the Oilers. Then Paul Seybert broke out in full throttle to widen the Tarpons' lead. Tupper Kinder polished it off for the Tarpons to break the sectional record.

After knocking off the Oilers in this event, there was no stopping the fired-up Tarpons. They went on to take a first in all but three events ending a 61-33 victory for the Tarpons and their second straight year as Section II swim champions. Throughout the season, Titusville's small but powerful swim team had broken many school records while being coached by Paul Stamm.

In the Section II meet, the Tarpons took second place, and in the district swim they grabbed third. District champions included Scott Linnon and Tupper Kinder. Along with these two, Steve Leach and Mark Seybert traveled to the state meet to capture 10th place in the 400-yrd. free-style relay which set a new District 10 record.

Battling heavily through high waters the T.H.S. Girls' Swim Team posted a 2.5 record. At the Oil City meet, the Oilers led the Rockettes 43-36 entering the 160-yard freestyle relay, worth seven points for the winner of the event. The Rockettes could have gained a tie, but lost the relay by seven-tenths of a second. However, this was not the pattern of the entire season.

The Rockettes chalked up their first pool victory since the existence of the team against St. Mary's. When they met with St. Mary's again, it was a tough battle. St. Mary's pressed the Rockettes and had a shot at winning going into the final event, the 200 free relay. However, Coach Bill Blood's sprinters easily captured the event by better than 23 seconds.

The popularity of the Girls' Swim Team increased as twice as many girls were on the team this season. The team consisted of one Senior, Sue Smith, and the remainder were mostly sophomores.

Cheerleaders struggle to improve spirit

Glancing down the halls of T H S. on a Monday, Tuesday, or Friday, you could catch a glimpse of some rather colorful girls. They were wearing brown and white checkered skirts, new white sweaters, ankle socks, and saddle shoes. The girls wearing these uniforms were the Senior High Varsity Cheerleaders. These girls, along with the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, led the students in supporting most of the T H S. teams.

With the help of Mrs. Bruce Pringle, the girls gym instructor, new brown and gold skirts were made for the basketball season. Money for these uniforms was raised by sponsoring dances and asking for contributions for the Athletic Association.

Pep assemblies, which were planned by Head Cheerleader Lynn Carone and Advisor Phyllis Kephart, were designed to bring out support for the teams. An assembly portraying school spirit was produced to show how big a part spirit really plays in the eyes of the athletes and spectators.

These girls standing out on the gym floor were there for a purpose. to show spirit, loyalty, enthusiasm, and respect for the school and all those people connected with it.

Getting a close-up view of the game, (below) two T.H.S. well wishers get focused in

T.H.S. spectators are a different breed of people. Whether rain or snow, thick or thin, they are always around ready to provide some extra push or spirit. That extra push and spirit could mean another touchdown, a last minute basket, a last period pin, or a record jump. The only regret is that there aren't more of these faithful supporters

Two hundred and fifty-seven students released on the world. Opening the doors, the seniors departed leaving twelve long years behind; probably twelve of the most important years of their's or anyone else's life

Memories for the Senior Class were numerous: presenting the play "Of Mice and Men;" having Mrs. Mary Dunkle as Class Advisor; creating the Class Homecoming Float; anticipating who would be the 1972 Homecoming Queen; and seeing T H S. win the cross Country District Championship.

With all these memories behind them, each senior thinks of the life ahead, what he will do, where he will go, and the big question—why?

Coming on strong was the junior class

Starting the year off with success helped to give the Junior Class an exciting year. The Juniors received the First Annual Principal's Award for designing and building the best class Homecoming float. The Spanish theme for Homecoming was projected beautifully by the Juniors through their reproduction of a Mexican taking his siesta.

Enthusiasm was displayed by the class as they worked many long, tire-some hours to create a masterpiece setting for the Junior Prom. The Junior Musical, the second in the history of T H S., was a great success, from which the Juniors shared the proceeds with the music department.

Thus, the school year of '72-73 became a never-to-be forgotten one and sparked anticipation within each junior for his upcoming senior year.

Sophomores tried to get it all together!

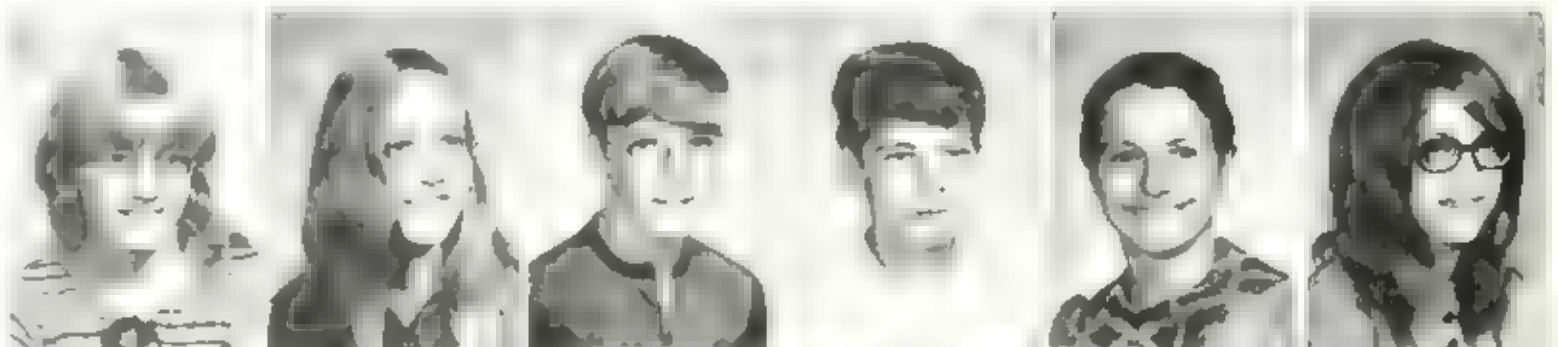

Pushing and tugging to reach their future goals, the Class of '75 worked well together on various projects throughout the school year. Highlights of the year for sophomores: the creative Spanish Sophomore Homecoming Float, class meetings, class parties, and the Sophomore Talent Show.

The Sophomore Class included among its members two sets of twins, which called for double trouble! They were Diane and Kathy Linnon and Clark and Cindy Kemp. It was the first time in the history of Titusville Sr. High School that the Sophomore Class had a Rotary Exchange Student. Andrew Scrase was sponsored by the Titusville Rotary Club and came from England to join the T H S Class of '75.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all the people who have given so much for us. Without them we would not be able to produce such a book. Our creativity is made possible explicitly by the generous financial support of our patrons and advertisers. We hope that the townspeople and their businesses will continue to support us in the future, as it is deeply appreciated by the T.H.S. student body.

Is there an assembly gap?

Assemblies are a form of torture that everyone suffers through, but especially so when the topic is irrelevant to the students. Among the variety of shows that we were entertained with throughout the year, there was one that was really outstanding. Not only was the topic well-chosen, "The History of Rock and Roll," but the attitude of the teachers was shocking. Some actually seemed to like it.

It just goes to show that you can see somebody everyday for six years and never really get to know them as real-life people. Why???

One wonders why those responsible, who most certainly realize that kids like rock music, have had so few assemblies that deal with such material. Do they feel that too much of a good thing will spoil us?

Andy Brindger (upper right) destroys the theory that a teacher must be a staunch, God-fearing, ruler-wielding, young man.

Teachers helping students?

Teachers really do care about the students in our school as shown by Project 5:1 that deals with providing one teacher to counsel five students. This experiment seemed to be destined for success.

This was a fabulous undertaking on the teachers part, but due to the limitations of government aid, only 15 out of the 67 teachers could be asked to participate. As compared to other groups, the members were not restricted to helping particular types of disadvantaged groups. Our compliments to the administration for realizing that kids need adult guidance—sometimes!

One of the big projects of the combined forces of all the high school clubs was to import the Pittsburgh Steelers (above) to play against the faculty.

Editorial

It was time to leave for doing something better. It was time to leave for our school. We were in such a hurry to go to school, we didn't even have time to go to school. We wanted to write about something that was not found in a daily newspaper, but was still relevant to the school.

It was found that there are a lot of emotional people living around here. It was found that there are a lot of emotional people living around here. It was found that there are a lot of emotional people living around here.

The opinions of these two kinds of people that the printed reminder made concerning them, were written for all to see. We hope that both groups take the time to consider our views.

Christy, neat enjoy! Have to a who! Don't forget of Shakespeare!
next year.
fun next year! Have the things!

Chris,
I'm a real nice guy, remember
all the fun in math

Christy,

You are a super-friendly person. I wish you the best of luck in everything and with that 'special someone'. Remember chows and my 'plane career'.

Good luck
and

luv.

Christy,

To a really great person. Never forget govt or in fact any of the "fun" classes this year. Remember all the years we've had homeroom together. (how could you forget!) Good luck in the future with whatever and whoever comes along. We've only got one year left so we better make it good!

In this day and age,
a lot of people are copping out.

To these people we ask . . .
